GREETINGS FROM THE NAVAJO AREA INDIAN HEALTH SERVICE

The Navajo Area Indian Health Service is the primary health care provider on the Navajo Indian Reservation. Comprehensive Health Care is provided through In-Patient, Out-Patient, and Community Health programs centered around Six Hospitals, Five Ambulatory Health Centers, and Sixteen Health Stations. All of our facilities are JCAHO Accredited. The health program goal is to provide and improve upon, the efficient delivery of high quality, comprehensive health care to the Navajo people. Nursing is the foundation of the health care delivery system. Our jobs provide both interesting personal and professional challenges. Our nurses work with pride and respect as members of excellent health care teams.

The Navajo Reservation is the largest Indian Reservation in the United States and its' vast distances provide both incredible natural beauty and exceptional recreation opportunities. The facilities are surrounded with blue sky at elevations of 4,500 to 7,500 feet. There is very little humidity, so summers are not too hot and winters are not too cold.

The Navajo people offer a rich cultural heritage and most of the professional staff find that they receive more than they give. Here, they have the intangible satisfaction of doing something meaningful while having the adventure of their life.

The Indian Health Service is an agency of the U.S. Public Health Service and employs nurses through Public Health Service Commissioned Corps or Federal Civil Service. Entrance salaries and benefits vary depending on the type of employment and level of experience. All nurses are required to have a current unrestricted nursing license and be a U.S. Citizen.

If you are seeking the fun, challenge and stimulation of sharing your nursing skills with the Navajo, please send us your application. The application process, materials about the area and positions are included in this package for your information. Feel free to call us at 1-888-562-1411 or 520/ 871-5842, if you need more information or have other questions.

Sincerely,

Brenda Gabbard, RN
